ABOUT WOLF TRAP FOUNDATION

For more than 45 years, Wolf Trap Foundation for the Performing Arts has distinguished itself as an artistic, educational, and economic resource for the Washington, D.C. region and beyond. More than 400,000 people flock to its three unique venues every year to enjoy a vast array of high-quality entertainment. Wolf Trap's programming includes esteemed classical music, operas, musical theatre, dance and comedy programs, as well as pop, rock, indie, jazz, country, and R&B music. Wolf Trap has commissioned more than 70 new works, and Wolf Trap Opera is renowned for its outstanding professional training and lush performances.

WOLF TRAP IN THE COMMUNITY

Wolf Trap Foundation provides educational opportunities to more than 90,000 children and teachers annually, and expands access to the arts by providing nearly 8,000 free tickets to families and area organizations that serve disabled or underserved children and adults. The Wolf Trap Institute and its arts integrated strategies have proven successful in promoting school readiness among children who live in economically disadvantaged circumstances. The Institute's Early Childhood STEM Learning Through the Arts program has drawn national attention for its use of the arts to teach math and science fundamentals to preschool and kindergarten students. The effectiveness of this program in Fairfax County was the subject of an extensive U.S. Department of Education funded research study. In addition, Wolf Trap's popular and highly competitive internship program provides hands-on training in arts management for college students and recent graduates.

Please see attached sponsorship recognition and entertainment benefits, and a list of current supporters. Please contact Special Events Director Kara Kurtz at karak@wolftrap.org to make your commitment or for more information. We will confirm your reservation and communicate further details by email. Thank you!
